Foreword

ISO (the International Organization for Standardization) is a worldwide federation of national standards institutes (ISO member bodies). The work of developing International Standards is carried out through ISO technical committees. Every member body interested in a subject for which a technical committee has been set up has the right to be represented on that committee. International organizations, governmental and non-governmental, in liaison with ISO, also take part in the work.

Draft International Standards adopted by the technical committees are circulated to the member bodies for approval before their acceptance as International Standards by the ISO Council.

International Standard ISO 1919 was developed by Technical Committee ISO/TC 22, Road vehicles, and was circulated to the member bodies in January 1981.

It has been approved by the member bodies of the following countries:

Australia	Italy	South Africa, Rep. of
Austria	Japan	Spain
Belgium	Korea, Rep. of	Sweden
Brazil	Mexico	Switzerland
Egypt, Arab Rep. of	Netherlands	United Kingdom
France	New Zealand	USA
Germany, F. R.	Poland	USSR
Iran	Romania

The member body of the following country expressed disapproval of the document on technical grounds:

Czechoslovakia

This third edition cancels and replaces the second edition (i.e. ISO 1919-1976).
